COKERS LIKE INDIANS

Fighting With a War Whoop Yell.

WORKERS TAKEN PRISONERS.

Four Hundred Cokers Fall Upon Frick's Works and Take Seventy Non-Strikers Prisoners—Many of the Deputy Sheriffs Also Captured and Not a Shot Fired. The State of Affairs Very Critical.

UNIONTOWN, Pa., April 12.—The southern end of the coke regions is again in a turmoil. Yesterday 400 strikers swooped down upon the Youngstown works of the Frick company, completely surprising and capturing almost every one of the 70 workmen and deputies, and took them without firing a shot. The attack was a complete surprise to both operators and guards.

At the Youngstown and many other plants in this vicinity work was resumed with an almost full quota of men. The day was dark and foggy, which, together with the falling snow, effectively concealed the approach of the strikers. All of a sudden a terrific yell broke the quiet of the valley and 400 or more strikers rushed upon the works from all sides.

The men at work did not take a second look at the attacking forces, but dropped their tools, and ran to the company's store, taking refuge in the second story of the building. The guards had barely time to seize their guns and meet the raiders at the store door. The strikers excitedly and determinedly demanded the surrender of the men in the building at once, threatening that if refused they would make a rush, kill the guards and destroy the store.

After a short parley, the workmen surrendered and were received by the raiders with cheers. A few who refused to go with the mob were severely beaten. Dan Myers, a colored man, was seriously injured. Houses were next broken open and men not working were also compelled to go with the strikers.

Sheriff Wilhelm was notified by wire, and an hour later, with 20 additional deputies, was on the scene. The strikers, with their prisoners, had left, however, going in the direction of the Leisnring plants.

The sheriff's posse followed at double-quick and about a mile from Youngstown overtook the strikers. He ordered them to halt, which they did. The sheriff's men, armed with Winchester and revolvers, were drawn up in line of battle. Sheriff Wilhelm ordered the strikers to disperse, and to give up the Youngstown men. A parley ensued, in which the strikers refused to disperse. One of the leaders said: "We have just as much right on county roads as you have."

At this juncture one of the strikers attempted to hit Deputy Sheriff Richards, whereupon an officer seized his assailant and declared him under arrest. This threw the raiders into confusion, and a great mob gathered about Richards, compelling him to release the man arrested. The small force of deputies were of no avail whatever, as they were shut off from Richards and could not aid him. To have shot into the strikers' ranks would have meant death for all, together with the danger of killing their own men.

Order was finally restored and the strikers, with their prisoners, resumed the march toward Leisnring's. The sheriff, after telegraphing for assistance, followed in the rear of the mob. He will try to prevent the mob from stopping the men from work at Leisnring Nos. 1, 2 and 3, but trouble is expected, as the rioters are determined. If the sheriff offers armed resistance or a shot is fired, blood will follow freely.

At Youngstown a swarm of armed deputies are guarding the idle works and the excitement is intense. Ten deputies have just left here for the scene on a special train, and others are being sworn in as fast as possible. Not an English-speaking man was seen in the body of men that attacked the Youngstown works. No late word has been received from Leisnring.

Their Line of Defense.

CONNELLSVILLE, Pa., April 12.—The strikers now contend that Paddock was shot by his assistant, Coll, during the excitement attending the Davidson trouble. They contend that Coll shot at the strikers without provocation, and that when his hasty action had incensed the strikers and caused them to make threatening demonstrations he became so excited that he fired in all directions, one of his bullets killing Paddock. While this theory is not believed by any considerable number of citizens of this vicinity, it shows the line of defense in the forthcoming murder trials.

LAKE SCHOONER LOST.

The Captain Saved but the Crew of Two Were Drowned.

MILWAUKEE, April 12.—A little yawl-boat, nine feet long, drifted to the beach several miles north of this city, bearing the unconscious form of Captain William R. Wood, the only survivor of the schooner Island City. The other two men, who comprised the crew of the lost boat, were undoubtedly drowned.

Two Brakemen Instantly Killed.

CHICAGO, April 12.—A sand train on the Northern Pacific was thrown from the track last night by running over a horse. William Andrews and James Donohue, brakemen, were instantly killed.

MOUNTAINOUS MARCH.

Doxey's Commonwealth Army Climbing the Alleghenies.

CHALK HILL, Pa., April 12.—The march of the commonwealth from Uniontown to this point on the Alleghenies, was one of the most trying ones ever experienced. It was made in a driving storm, with the ground covered with a foot of snow.

The stops were many, and at times it was necessary for a force of men to be sent to the rear to push along the commissary and supply wagons. The men were weary with the tramp and gladly availed themselves of the opportunity to rest. Six hours were consumed in the march, but at dusk camp was pitched in the old stagehouse near here, where each commune was placed in a room where a big fire was raging.

One hundred and eighty men on foot left Uniontown and continued to tramp, undismayed by the discomforts caused by the weather. The scene was surprisingly picturesque, with the trees and bushes fairly groaning under their foliage of white.

At Hopwood, the only town passed, all houses were locked and the male portion of the community viewed the army from the portico of the postoffice. In the building were a number of Winchester rifles, ready for use. There was no necessity, and a sigh of relief went up when the procession had disappeared over the mountain.

The noon stop will be at Somerville and camp will be pitched at Petersburg, to be known as Camp Thomas Jefferson.

NOT A WIDOW,

And the $5,000 Life Insurance That She Got Is Not Hers.

CLEVELAND, April 12.—Mrs. Jacob Weisenborn of this city, since the latter part of October, has thought herself a widow, but a dispatch from Buffalo makes her widowhood extremely doubtful. Her husband left her suddenly last October. She went to Buffalo and discovered that an unknown man answering the description of her husband had been killed on the New York Central railroad.

Coroner Tucker of Buffalo gave permission to have the body exhumed and Mrs. Weisenborn and insurance company representatives viewed the remains. The features were not recognizable, but the body was positively identified as that of Jacob Weisenborn. Mrs. Weisenborn received $5,000 insurance money. Now comes a telegram from Buffalo saying that Weisenborn is alive and in good health, living in that city. A prompt investigation will be made.

BURNED WITH HOT METAL.

Four Men Will Die and Six Others That Will Probably Recover.

POMEROY, O., April 12.—A hydraulic plunger on a converter at the Middleport steel plant broke yesterday afternoon, precipitating 8,000 pounds of white hot metal among 60 workmen from a distance of 15 feet. Ten of the number were burned, four fatally.

The four who will die are: Jack Hayden, burned about head and shoulders; Orlando Grady, boy, breast and neck burned; William Cozens, colored, arm burned off; Stephen Weeks, eyes burned out.

Those who are expected to recover are: George Phillips, Arthur Winegar, Edward Burney, Frank Barnett, George Steele and Jesse Wilson. The hot metal scattered for 50 feet in all directions, burning nearly everything it reached. All the fatally injured are single men except Cozens, who has a large family. Four hundred men are employed in this plant.

A Peculiar Spring.

GALLIPOLIS, O., April 12.—On the farm of Frank Hughes, in Clay township, was discovered a few days ago a most remarkable spring. In the surface of a large and comparatively level rock are carved out eight basins, seven of which are exactly circular and in a cluster, and the eighth of an oblong shape, all being from 12 to 24 inches in depth and holding from eight to 10 gallons each, and they are supplied with the best of water the year round. Mr. James W. Weatherholt and others who have seen this discovery pronounce it quite a curiosity and say that the basins are undoubtedly the work of human hands and were used for a watering place by some ancient people or tribe of Indians.

Another Big Canal Project.

TOLLEDO, April 12.—At a meeting of the directors of the chamber of commerce, a committee was appointed to investigate the feasibility of a ship canal from Chicago to this city, shortening the distance from the west to the seaboard over 700 miles. The committee will also select a route for the canal and endeavor to demonstrate to the promoters of the proposed enterprise that it would be a profitable investment.

Pension Fraud Imprisoned.

WASHINGTON, April 12.—The pension bureau has been notified of the conviction of Dr. Frank Fuller, alias Dr. Mitchell, alias Dr. Ford, alias Dr. Dunn, alias Professor A. J. Cook, at Springfield, Mo., for falsely personating a special pension examiner. Fuller has been sentenced to two years imprisonment in the Jefferson City (Mo.) penitentiary.

Wolcott's Effigy Burned.

ENID, O. T., April 12.—Copies of Senator Wolcott's speech on the Rock Island state bill were received in Enid Monday night, and it so enraged the citizens that at midnight a large crowd collected and burned the Colorado senator in effigy and denounced him as a railroad hireling. Leading citizens deplore the act.

Eight Men Drowned.

PHILADELPHIA, April 12.—Schooner Albert W. Smith, from Philadelphia for Providence, was driven ashore during the storm. Eight men were drowned.

STORM IN THE EAST.

Many Lives Lost Along the Jersey Coast.

GREAT DESTRUCTION WROUGHT.

Vessels Wrecked at a Number of Different Places and Several Others Not Heard From—Untold Damage Done to Property All Along the Coast—Communication Interfered With.

MANASQUAN, N. J., April 12.—The furious gales and high tides which prevailed Tuesday night and yesterday have left their mark along the Jersey coast. Along the Jersey Central railroad to Toms river the high tides have done enormous damage, and the sea has overflowed the shore and formed little lakes for a considerable distance. The beach far down the coast is strewn with light wreckage. The wind has blown a full gale, the high seas roaring and pounding and foaming with a mighty rage.

In the height and fury of the storm, the 3-masted schooner Albert W. Smith was driven ashore at a point midway between Sea Girt and Manasquan. In less than half an hour after the vessel struck she was pounded into kindling-wood by the seas which broke over her. What was left, a portion of the hull, was carried up about a quarter of a mile south of the lifesaving station.

Eight men, it is said, composed the crew of the Albert W. Smith, not one of whom has been seen since their boat was wrecked, and it is unlikely that any man of that crew has survived to tell the tale of his experiences in the awful gale. The wreck was discovered by George W. Green of the Squan Beach lifesaving station.

Captain Longstreet and two or three of his men went out from the red building which serves as the headquarters of the station, at 8 o'clock yesterday afternoon, with the Associated Press representative to the spot where what was left of the schooner lay. The wind at that time, according to the captain, was scurrying along at the rate of 70 miles an hour. The sand which it lifted up cut the flesh, and it was with difficulty that the party could keep their feet.

All along the beach was scattered the wreckage of the ill-fated craft, and her battered hull was rolled and splintered with every billow that broke over it. The beach for a hundred yards was foam-crusted and the surf, as far as the eye could see, was a mountain rising and falling with a fearful roar.

"Green went out to cast his eye down the beach during the blinding snow and when the storm was at its height. He saw the outlines of a vessel which was struggling with the breakers above the station. Two masts were standing at that time, but there were no top masts. We got out our men at once and endeavored to launch a lifeboat, but by the time we got to her only one mast was standing. A very short time afterward she broke up.

"There was no sign of a living person on the schooner when we got to her. The wreck drifted with the sweeping current a quarter of a mile south of the station. In the blinding sand and snow-storm we dragged our gun to her and made one shot with the line, but by the time we could get ready to shoot the second time there was nothing left to shoot at."

Among the wreckage was the quarter-board, and on this was painted the name of the vessel "Albert W. Smith."

"You can see," said the captain, as he kicked his rubber boot against a piece of the hull of the craft, "that she was old and rotten." Without the slightest effort he kicked huge chunks of the wood apart, it being totally rotten.

Four spars were found on the beach, and it was thought that the fourth spar was probably a part of the wrecked Kate Markee, which went ashore near Long Branch.

The vessel was 572 tons burden, 145 feet keel, 35 feet beam and 16 feet hold. She was built in 1873 at Kennebunk, Me., and was owned by Albert W. Smith of Providence, from which place she hailed. She was bound for Providence from Philadelphia.

The lifesaving men are on the lookout for any bodies which may wash ashore, though it is not expected any will until the wind abates and the sea calms down.

KATE MARKEE LOST.

Only Two of Her Crew Saved—Reports From Long Branch.

LONG BRANCH, April 12.—For 24 hours the most severe northeast gale with heavy rain and snow in 14 years has prevailed along the coast, causing much damage to the bulkheads and shipping. At Morgan, along the line of the New York and Long Branch railroad, the tide was higher than has been known in 10 years.

At Matawan and Keyport the tide backed up to such an extent that the meadows surrounding these places are all inundated and some of the smaller vessels which have been lying at their docks have broken loose and drifted out upon the meadows, so that when the storm abates and the tide falls they will be left lying high and dry.

At Normandy-by-the-Sea the ocean and the Shrewsbury river have joined forces over the land.

The New Jersey Southern trains running between Seabright and Highland beach have all been abandoned, and all passengers from that section for Atlantic Highlands and intermediate stations are being sent via Matawan. The tracks of the company between these two points are a total wreck and portions of the road have been washed to sea. Directly opposite the Highland Beach station the 3-masted schooner Kate Markee came ashore yesterday at the outer bar. It was reported at first that the entire crew was lost, but later reports show that two of the men were saved.

A number of people residing at Seabright are standing in readiness to leave their homes, fearing they will be surrounded by water from the ocean, which is threatening to flood the town. At Long Branch the tower of the Oceanic Fire company, which contains a large firebell, was blown down and fell crashing into the street.

The continuous bulkhead on Ocean avenue has received but slight damage, but the bulkhead just erected in front of the Madison flats is badly damaged and may go to sea. The flats are receiving a severe pounding, and should the bulkheading in front of them give way, there will be considerable chance of the embankment being carried away.

CHICAGO LOCKOUT.

A Long and Bitter Labor Struggle Begun Which May Extend Elsewhere.

CHICAGO, April 12.—Pursuant to the decision of the Central Building league and a majority of the leading builders of Chicago, the lockout of all the employees engaged in the building trades began this morning at 7 o'clock.

No man affiliated with a trades union will be taken back to work until a general agreement is reached that they will consent to an arbitration of all differences growing out of the schedules which the bosses have refused to sign.

Representatives of both sides say that a long fight, and one in which the building trades and allied industries will remain practically at a standstill, is imminent. Others declare that the lockout will last until Saturday night, but not much longer.

It is intimated that the cause of the local master builders may be taken up by the other associations throughout the country, thus involving all the principal cities in the lockout. If the difficulties in Chicago are not easily and speedily settled, they say, the master builders in New York, Philadelphia, Buffalo, Cleveland, Milwaukee and other large places will take measures similar to those taken in Chicago.

AN ERROR OVERLOOKED.

Indianapolis Bank Wreckers May Get Clear on a Technicality.

INDIANAPOLIS, April 12.—The government consumed the second day of the trial of the Indianapolis National bank cases in the examination of one witness, Lewis J. Robinson, the receiving teller of the bank. When the bank went under, the Indianapolis Cabinet company, with branch establishments at London, New York, Boston, Chicago and Richmond, Ind., owed the bank $375,000, for which it developed yesterday, it placed in the bank paper that was worthless and which was prepared to defraud the bank. In this, Theodore P. Haughey, president of the bank, was the principal.

The government won upon all questions of introducing testimony and has not met with a failure. The count announced that had there been a motion to quash the indictment at the proper time, he would have granted it, as errors have been found which would have been fatal at that stage. Although the defense includes W. H. H. Miller, ex-attorney general of the United States, the weakness of the indictment had been overlooked. This may affect the trials of the other officers, President Haughey having pleaded guilty.

An Engineer's Mistake.

HARTFORD CITY, Ind., April 12.—In a freight train wreck yesterday A. Ben-thin, a brakeman, was instantly killed, the fireman, J. W. Tucker, had both legs broken. Al Phillips, brakeman, was injured so that he died a few hours afterward, and two tramps were seriously hurt. The engineer thought he was on the main track, when he was on a switch, and ran the train off the end of the switch, down an embankment.

Anti-Trust Company Formed.

TERRE HAUTE, Ind., April 12.—A company has been formed to operate the immense new anti-trust distillery now being built here, to cost $300,000. The capital stock is $500,000, and George L. Woolsey of Nebraska City is president of the board of directors. The other directors are Frederick Smith and Charles Vincent. It is indignantly denied that the company will sell out to the trust.

First Word Spoken For Months.

ATTICA, O., April 12.—About two months ago Frank Sachs was suddenly stricken speechless, since which time he has not spoken a word. Early yesterday morning a tannery, belonging to his father, caught fire. He was the first one to discover it and at once screamed "fire" at the top of his voice. He can now talk as well as any one.

Will Decide It Friday.

OMAHA, April 12.—The hearing of the petition of the American Railway union for the restoration of salaries of its members on the Union Pacific road was concluded yesterday in the United States district court before Judge Dundy, who took the case under advisement and announced he would render his decision Friday.

River Steamer Burned.

CAIRO, Ill., April 12.—Steamer City of New Orleans arrived here at 2 p. m. yesterday and reported that the towboat Diamond was burned to the water's edge Tuesday night at the avenue landing while on her way to New Orleans, towing 26 boats and barges of coal. The tow was unharmed.

Paper Mills Starting.

DELAWARE, O., April 12.—The Stradford paper mills, two miles south of this city, started up yesterday, furnishing employment to over 100 hands. The mills have been idle since Dec. 7, 1891, an assignment being made that day. The lessees are Cincinnati capitalists.

THE STRIKE ORDERED.

It Will Begin at Noon on Saturday, April 21.

OVER 300,000 MEN AFFECTED.

The Strike to Extend All Over the Country In All Mines the Union Controls Unless Differences Are Settled by Then—The Old Officers Re-Elected—Other Doings of the Columbus Convention.

COLUMBUS, O., April 12.—The United Mine Workers of America in annual session here have ordered a general strike for April 21 by adopting the following resolution:

RESOLVED, That on and after 12 o'clock noon, Saturday, April 21, 1894, no coal shall be mined in any state or territory, where the organization has control, until authorized by the national officers or the executive board.

It was unanimously adopted.

The resolution, as reported from the committee, fixed April 22 as the day for the strike. The delegates from Indiana opposed the early date because they were under contract to work at the present scale up to May 1, this year. The final discussion and vote took place in executive session. Indiana was finally drawn into line by the statement that the operators themselves had broken the contract in the Linton district.

The strike will be far-reaching and universal in its character, and will practically paralyze the coal, if not other, industries. Over 300,000 men will be thrown out of work.

Another resolution provides that in case the first general suspension of mining fails to bring the desired results, the executive board is authorized to order another suspension during the year at any time that may be deemed advisable.

It is understood that the Indiana miners in joining the movement in the face of their contract to mine until May 1, did so upon the ground that they were compelled, under the circumstances, to enter upon the suspension, claiming that the operators in one district had first violated the agreement and placed colored men in their places which made it optional with the miners to say whether the contract should be continued.

Another important work will be the arrangement of a scale for the various states. This has been placed in the hands of the following committee: W. B. Wilson, Pennsylvania; M. Mahy, Indianapolis; John Nugent, Ohio; Thomas Farry, West Virginia; W. C. Webb, Kentucky; and Thomas McGregor, Missouri. The committee was appointed by President McBride.

John McBride was re-elected president, P. H. Penna vice president and Patrick McBride secretary-treasurer. W. B. Wilson of Pennsylvania, W. C. Webb of Kentucky, Cameron Miller of Ohio J. A. Crawford of Illinois were elected members of the executive board; two more are yet to be elected. Wilson is the only new man chosen.

Operators Expected It.

PITTSBURG, April 12.—The Pittsburgh coal operators do not seem alarmed over the determination of the miners to strike this spring. They have long expected such a decision on the part of the leaders. They do believe, however, that there is such a strong organization among the individual miners as the leaders claim. Mr. Carsey said: "I can voice the larger operators when I say that they are perfectly willing to pay higher wages if the miners can induce or force the smaller operators to live up to a scale."

Colorado Miners Starving.

DENVER, April 12.—State Coal Mine Inspector Reed endorses the general strike of coal miners ordered by the United Mine Workers of America. Colorado miners, he says, are starving, their average wages for last year amounting to only $1.06 a day, and some of the miners are from three to six months behind in their pay.

DELAYED BY REED.

WASHINGTON, April 12.—Mr. Reed held the house at bay for an hour and a half yesterday on a motion to discharge the warrant issued to the sergeant-at-arms during the fight over the contested election cases to arrest absentees. The Republicans, under his leadership, refused to vote, and the Democrats, being unable to muster a quorum, yielded to an adjournment.

The Democrats fear that this move on the part of Mr. Reed is in pursuance of a carefully formulated plan to force the constant attendance of a Democratic quorum hereafter. The Republicans deny that any such plan has been agreed upon. The business of the house is well advanced, and if such a scheme were carried into effect, the Democrats say they will have ample time to transact their routine business before the senate disposes of the tariff bill.

In the Senate.

WASHINGTON, April 12.—The agreement made between Senators Harris and Aldrich went into effect yesterday and from 1 o'clock until 5 the tariff bill was under discussion and Senators Hale of Maine and Peffer of Kansas spoke against it. The time of the senate from 12 to 1 and from 5 to 6 p. m., when it went into executive session, was taken up in a consideration of the urgent deficiency bill, but without reaching any conclusion in regard to it.

LOUISVILLE, April 12.—The family of Albert Easten, at Irving Depot, Ky., has been poisoned eating blackberries cooked in a brass kettle. One of the children has died, and five others are in a moribund condition.

NOTICE.

Members of Mason County Democratic Executive Committee are requested to meet at County Clerk's office Saturday, April 14, 1894, at 2 o'clock p. m., for the purpose of determining the kind of convention to be held May 5, 1894, for the purpose of selecting delegates to represent said county in approaching Congressional convention.
J. N. KEOH, Chairman.
J. C. LOVEL, Secretary.

Generally fair weather, except light local showers on the lakes; east winds; slight rise in temperature.

The Cincinnati Post sizes up Senator Hill and his alleged tariff speech about right. It says: "In reading Senator Hill's speech against the tariff bill, one soon reaches the conclusion that it is an arraignment of the administration as contradistinguished from a carefully prepared, logical address on a great economic question. Personal animosity to the President is easily seen between the lines. Hill possesses more capacity for hatred than any member of the Senate chamber."

McKINLEY AND CALAMITY.

The Cleveland Press, an independent paper, in commenting on the cause of the present depression, uses these vigorous and truthful remarks. They are apt sayings, and worthy of consideration:

A big steel company at Chicago has resumed operations, and the souls of high protection editors are filled with indignation thereat. One of them says: "The McKinley duties can be lowered, but when lowered the wages of American working men must be lowered as well. Experience is a costly lesson. Very often it is cruel. The North is now paying for its knowledge. However, a fact and a theory is no longer tolerable."

A fact is always a fact.
 It is a fact that McKinley duties have not been lowered and that wages have been lowered.

It is a fact that, in spite of the efforts of the McKinley editorial calamity howlers, the times are improving and steel mills and other manufactories are being put in operation.

We would have fairly good times tomorrow could all the people be disabused of the false idea that the times are ten times harder than they are.

But McKinleyism and McKinley's boom for the Presidency depend upon hard times, real or imagined, and "hard times" will be made to stick in the minds of the people until 1896, if the rascally and unpatriotic partisan press can make it so stick.

The calamity howling of papers like the N. Y. Tribune, Cleveland Leader and other mere party papers furnishes an excuse to make wage-reduction a substitute for reduction of enormous and unhealthful dividends.

The calamity howling is a stone that kills two birds. It enables the protected monopolist who contributes to campaign funds to reduce wages, and it makes many men whose wages are reduced believe that such reduction is due to reduction of the McKinley duties, which is not yet a fact. This is not a tolerable theory but it is an intolerable fact.

We believe that, were the artificial panic now maintained by a venal party press destroyed, the country would be found to be in a better condition than ever. The eviscerated remains of a lot of speculative balloons might be found and it might also be discovered that the masses had more fully learned the lesson of providence, but these things are not disasters but advantages.

What of the banking institutions that went under last summer? Many resumed business and are in a healthier condition than ever, to-day; some are closed permanently and went out of existence with honorable balance sheets and the officers of others are under indictment for general rascality.

Deposits in the savings institutions are normal, which show that people of moderate means have got over their fright and other effects of "hard times." It is the capitalist and day laborer who are still suspicious of the Nation's strength and upon whom the selfish party press seeks to impress its miserable influence. The average capitalist wants "more!" He wants much more. He can stand a little "calamity" now, if he can cut down wages and get a big lot of McKinley protection and monopoly after a time.

Calamity and McKinley!
 In order to have one we must take the other, unless this Nation is great enough and intelligent enough to go right on growing and regaining full prosperity in spite of petty party politics, which we think she is.

CONTESTED ELECTIONS.

The Court of Appeals has rendered an important ruling on the subject of the power of Election Boards to go behind the returns of the officers of election. The decision was rendered in the case of Broadus versus Mason, from Garrard County, and it also covers the points as to service of notice of contests. The court says:

First—In the absence of any provision in the election law prescribing the mode of serving notice of contest of election, it is to be presumed the Legislature intended it done according to section 625 of the Civil Code, which provides that if a person to whom a notice is directed can not be found at his usual place of abode it may be served by leaving a copy "there" with a person over the age of sixteen years residing in the same family with him. And under this statute it is not material whether the person who received the notice was at the time in touch of the place of abode of the person to whom the notice was directed, or two hundred yards away, if he was in other respects a proper person to leave the paper with and undertook to deliver it to the person to whom it was directed or put it within the abode where he could get it on his return. Moreover, as the person to whom the notice was directed in this case had left the county to avoid service of notice he is not in a position to question the sufficiency of service, especially as he had, and availed himself of, full opportunity to make defense to the proceeding.

Second—A contesting election board has power to go behind returns of officers of election at each precinct and adjudicate and determine who was legally elected and entitled to an office, and where the ballots have been destroyed parol evidence is admissible for the purpose of determining who was in fact elected.

In this case the ballots were correctly counted and number of votes to which each candidate was entitled was a certain, but officers of the election simply made a mistake in casting up or adding the votes together after the ballots were counted, the mistake being shown by a tally paper explained and corroborated by testimony of officers of election. Held—That the contesting board had power to correct the mistake.

HOW FASHION MAKES FRIGHTS.

A woman who does not dress her hair on the top of her head should never wear a crownless bonnet. The only excuse for the existence of such a paradoxical sort of head covering is the display through the open crown of a pretty arrangement of the hair, filling up the empty space. Even in that case they are not suitable for anything except rather festive wear. They are quite a clever invention, however, since the hair is a more beautiful adornment for the head than anything that can be manufactured, and hats and bonnets serve usually only to conceal it.

AN EVENING COIFFURE.

Nothing external so much affects a woman's appearance as the arrangement of her tresses. If she is wise enough not to be carried away by mere novelty, she will find out what style of coiffure best suits her face and then keep to it permanently without regard to the vagaries of fashion. It is astonishing what a fright a woman will sometimes make of herself for the sake of being in the mode. If heavy fringes are in vogue, the woman with the low Greek forehead cuts off her front hair on a level with her eyebrows, thereby concealing her chief beauty. If pompadour fashions rule, foreheads that would put the portraits of Shakespeare to the blush are unblenchingly exposed, without a curl to soften their boldness. In fashion, as in love and war, discretion is the better part of valor.

The favorite hair ornaments at present are small swords with plain, jeweled or enameled hilts. They are 6 or 7 inches long and are used also as hatpins by persons who do not object to the havoc made by the blade. They may be obtained in both silver and gold. Bands and bows of velvet and ribbon are also worn, although prettily dressed hair really requires no decoration other than itself. An illustration is given of a graceful coiffure intended to accompany a full dress toilet. The front hair is curled, while the back hair is waved and rolled over in a twist at the back of the head. It is then secured on the crown in two loose puffs surmounted by an erect loop, and the ends are allowed to escape in short curls. The ornaments are pearls, which are twisted in with the puff arrangement.

JUDIC CHOLLET.

For the Farmer.

The Industrial American of Lexington gives farmers some timely advice. It says: "Notwithstanding the low prices for 1893 tobacco, the farmers in the burley districts are preparing for an increased acreage this season. The result of this can not but be fatal, as the profits are now on the wrong side of the ledger. Unfortunately for Kentucky farmers, they all go after the same thing; if planting tobacco is popular, they all plant it, apparently regardless of profits.

"Kentucky farmers must diversify—pay more attention to the dairy, small fruits, canneries and such things as make many Northern communities independent within themselves; planting the sugar beet and converting them into sugar is very profitable in many European countries where the soil is less fertile and a market for their products must be sought abroad. Any or all of these will prove more profitable than tobacco and nothing but tobacco."

Mother and Child Burned to Death.

FARGO, N. D., April 12.—Mrs. Lewis Larsen and 1-year-old baby, of Wild Rice, 13 miles south, were burned to death yesterday. The indications are that the baby's dress caught fire from the stove and the mother was enveloped by the flames in endeavoring to extinguish them. She carried the child in her arms into the yard, where both were found naked and their flesh horribly burned.

"Dangerous Customers."

GALLIPOLIS, O., April 12.—At Fleming, a small town on the Norfolk and Western railroad, Hope Napier and Henry Collins quarreled over a settlement and both drew revolvers. After the smoke had cleared Collins was lying dead with a bullet in his heart, while Napier had a fatal wound in the abdomen. Both men had families and were considered dangerous customers.

Colored Preacher Arrested for Murder.

JEFFERSONVILLE, Ind., April 12.—Marion Pickering, an itinerant colored preacher, was arrested yesterday for the murder of Stephen Geer March 6, last. Geer was an old man, and caught Pickering and another negro stealing his chickens and was shot by the thieves. The arrest was made on the confession of Pickering's accomplice.

Strike Partly Broken.

AKRON, O., April 12.—Employees of the Werner company, who have been on a strike since Monday for the restoration of a 10 per cent cut made last fall, held a meeting yesterday afternoon and decided to return to work. The pressmen and press feeders, to the number of 10, withdrew from the meeting and will stay out for the old wages.

Battle Last December.

LONDON, April 12.—Kappa Rega, King of Unyoro and the most powerful and troublesome of the East Africa chiefs was attacked early in December by a detachment of the British East Africa company's forces under Major Owen.

A Household Treasurer.

D. W. Fuller, of Canajoharie, N. Y., says that he always keeps Dr. King's New Discovery in the house and his family has always found the very best results follow its use; that he would not be without it, if procurable. G. A. Dykeman, druggist, Catskill, N. Y., says that Dr. King's New Discovery is undoubtedly the best cough remedy; that he had used it in his family for eight years, and it has never failed to do all that is claimed for it. Why not try a remedy so long tried and tested? Trial bottles free at J. James Wood's drug store. Regular size 50c. and $1.00.

REV. DR. J. H. YOUNG.

Church circles at Louisville are all in a stir, says the Commercial, over the position taken by Rev. Dr. J. H. Young on the subject of the resurrection of Christ.

Dr. Young is Presiding Elder of the Louisville District of the M. E. Church, South. He was formerly a member of the Kentucky Conference, and has held several protracted meetings at the M. E. Church, South, of this city. He has a wide circle of friends in Maysville.

"The orthodox Methodist doctrine," says the Commercial, "teaches that Christ, when he again appeared to his disciples, after lying dead in the tomb for three days, went into it in spirit and resurrected it physically. The position of Mr. Young is almost Swedenborgian, and that gentleman states that his investigation of the subject of resurrection was instigated by reading the philosopher's theories."

"Mr. Young's opinions, as briefly stated by himself," adds the Commercial, "are that every mortal man or woman has a body spiritual and physical, both corresponding in every particular. When the physical body dies, it is placed in the grave, the prey of worms, but the spiritual body, identical in name with the earthly body that bore it, goes to its final resting place in eternity, and has nothing more to do with the decayed frame. Just so he makes the claim in regard to the death, resurrection and ascension of Christ."

Dr. Young has not yet spoken from the pulpit his opinions on this subject, but on account of the comment the position he holds has called forth he announces that he will probably do so in the near future, perhaps on Sunday next. He is also preparing for publication a written statement of his views. His statement will deal in detail with historical and philosophical facts present in the phenomena of the resurrection of Jesus Christ, in the first instance, and of men in the second.

THE FIFE MEETINGS.

The Evangelist Preaching to Packed Houses—Many Were Turned Away Last Night.

More than usual interest was manifested in the great revival on yesterday. It can truly be said the attendance was larger than on any previous day.

At the morning service the building was packed, and at night it was impossible to estimate the people in the house, while hundreds were turned away.

At the morning service the evangelist spoke on consecration. It was an earnest appeal to the Christian to lay his all upon the altar.

At night he spoke to the unsaved. About seventy-five confessed Christ, and more than the same number asked for prayers.

The singing by Mr. Maloney was as usual solemn and impressive.

The evangelist to-night will preach to the unsaved, and all Christians are asked to go to the First Presbyterian Church and engage in a song and prayer service. The evangelist will remain over Sunday.

This afternoon at 3:30 Mr. Maloney will talk to mothers and children in the Baptist Church; and the men will hold prayer meeting in the First Presbyterian Church at the same hour.

Rev. F. S. Pollitt.

Rev. F. S. Pollitt, who was raised near Tollesboro, and who was pastor of the Washington Circuit of the M. E. Church, South, a few years ago, has distinguished himself lately as an eloquent pulpit orator. He is engaged in a revival at Lexington. The Transcript says: "The church was crowded Sunday morning and evening and Mr. Pollitt held his hearers spellbound. His peculiar style impresses all. He selects texts from which he preaches impressive sermons. His words are studied and the silence between his sentences grow into eloquence. His rhetoric is as soft and mild as a May morning. In fact Mr. Pollitt is one of the most popular speakers in the Kentucky Conference. It is thought that he will be sent to Lexington by the conference next fall."

MR. "RURAL ROOSTER."

He Didn't Understand the Working's of the Telephone, and the Boys Had Some Fun.

The Mt. Sterling Gazette is responsible for the following: "In a town not a thousand miles from Mt. Sterling a rural rooster drove in one day with a wagon load of chickens and found a dull market. In his meanderings he dropped into a saloon where there were some mischievous boys, and while there began to complain of the dull market, when some of the boys advised him to send his chickens to Cincinnati. He said it was too far unless he knew the market. They advised him to telephone and learn prices. He said he did not know how to go about it. They told him that they had an instrument in the house and they would adjust it and let him talk through it free of charge, to which he readily agreed. They took the hand-pump used for pumping whisky out of the barrels and put one end through a thin partition, the chicken dealer on the front end and one of the boys at the opposite end, out of sight of the dealer, to talk back to him. He went on and inquired the price of chickens, and was told, also, that they would take all he would bring them. He turned away, pleased with the trade, but was told that he had forgotten to get the address of the house. He went back to inquire the address. The boys in the meantime had secured some water, and as he again approached this improvised 'phone' they turned the water loose on him. He jumped back, exclaiming, "Why it's rainin' like h— down there."

COREAN CONSPIRACY.
Emperor Nipped in the Bud.

VICTORIA, B. C., April 12.—A singular story of political intrigue and revenge is brought by the steamship Empress of Japan, that has just arrived from Yokohama. The closing scene, a bloody one, was enacted just before the vessel left Japan, on March 30, and international complications may possibly result. For months past the government of Korea has been living under the shadow of a plot, menacing continually the very life of the king and his ministers. Within the last few months a conspiracy of some 27 persons belonging to the Kin clan—the family late in power—was exposed and a majority of the conspirators were arrested before their plans could be matured and brought into execution.

The design was to fire the palace on the first day of the Chinese new year, Feb. 8, and during the natural confusion ensuing kill the king and proclaim one of their own clan in his stead. A few identified with the plot escaped and it is believed Ok Kin was one of their number. He was a leader of the progressive party in Korea and near the end of 1884, he and his friends started a revolution and attempted to overthrow the government of the Conservatives, whereupon a serious collision occurred between Japanese and Chinese troops in Seoul and the Japanese legation was attacked by Chinese and Koreans. The Japanese minister and all the Japanese residents in Seoul had

A narrow Escape With Their Lives while many actually were killed or wounded. Kin and a few others of the revolutionist leaders had to seek refuge in Japan, where they have since resided. His life has since been attended by assassins thought to have been sent by the Korean government, who considered his existence in Japan detrimental to their safety. Luckily he escaped for years and was waiting for the time when the Korean king would pardon him. On March 27 he visited Shanghai and put up at the Japan hotel, where he was one night stabbed to death from behind by a Korean named Koshowa, who had accompanied him from Japan as his body servant, and who was arrested on the 29th by the Settlement police.

The assassin is an educated man and has been identified as the same who a few days previous approached one Li Itsu Shoka with a proposal to do away with Kin and his former colleague, Boko Yoi Ko. When Ko Shu Wu's baggage was searched, the Straits papers assert, a letter from the Korean king was found ordering the removal of Boko, Kin and other refugees.

Other circumstances point equally plain to a concerted action against those Koreans whose freedom of speech had made them obnoxious to the government, and "now that the blow has fallen and the last of the Kings has been cut down" to quote the Japan Daily Advertiser "official dominion in Korea will breathe a little more freely for a time."

NEWFOUNDLAND POLITICS.

ST. JOHN'S, N. F., April 12.—Governor O'Brien has received telegraphic instructions from England. Just what these instructions are can not be learned, but as a probable result of them he has informed the premier that he does not consent to a dissolution. It is reported that the members of the government have decided to resign their position on the executive council and await developments. The governor, it is said, will then request the opposition to form an executive and it is presumed that they will accept. If so the present government will demand that they dissolve, as they have not a majority of members in the assembly.

They will then demand a by election, as the seats now vacant are the ones likely to return the Whiteway candidates again. With this addition to their forces a repeated demand for a dissolution will be made. It being refused, a vote of want of confidence in the executive will be passed. This will render the dissolution obligatory.

The Evening Telegram, the government organ, which has been on trial for contempt of court, has refused to apologize. The chief justice said that they defied the court and would have to take the consequences. The sentence, which will be the imposition of a fine or imprisonment, will be passed on Saturday.

A Whole Family Poisoned.
IRVINE, Ky., April 12.—The family of Albert Easter, living in this county, was poisoned Sunday by eating canned blackberries. One of the children has died and five others are in a dying condition. The poisoning was caused by the berries being cooked in a brass kettle.

Spurious Stuff Uncovered.
LAFAYETTE, Ind., April 12.—Officers yesterday found a lot of counterfeiting tools and about $500 in spurious coin. The stuff was discovered in a barn at Buckcreek, this county, and is supposed to have been used by some of those now under arrest.

Kentucky G. A. R.
LOUISVILLE, April 12.—The state Grand Army encampment, in session at Bowling Green, Ky., yesterday, elected Daniel O'Reilly of Litchfield, Ky., commander and J. W. Hammond of Louisville senior vice commander.

Ramsey Now a Rear Admiral.
WASHINGTON, April 12.—By the retirement yesterday of Rear Admiral Benham, Commodore Ramsey became a rear admiral. He has been for the past five years chief of the navigation bureau of the navy department.

Died of Apoplexy.
NEW ALBANY, Ind., April 12.—Fred Gebhart, son of J. F. Gebhart, superintendent of the New Albany super mills, was found dead in bed yesterday. Death was caused by apoplexy. He was 23 years old.

Shot at an Officer.
PIQUA, O., April 12.—William Green, colored, waived examination to the charge of shooting at an officer with intent to wound and was bound over to court in the sum of $300.

BREATHING ROOM ALLOWED.

Fashion Is Sensible at Least in the Matter of House Gowns.

Although the pretty flowered challes in delicate natural tints have great attractions, there is something about the close persian patterns, in two or three shades of one color on a light ground, the general effect being a medium tint, that is more satisfactory for house and tea gowns. Of course persian designs are much too old for children and young girls, who should wear only flowered or fancy figured goods. These oriental patterns, are well represented in red, purple and rose on a cream background, but as the ground is almost completely covered the general color effect is not light.

The usual assortment of china silk gowns is shown in yellow, turquoise, Nile green and rose. They are usually trimmed with Valenciennes lace and insertion, which are light enough to combine well with thin silk. Valenciennes is, in fact, favor ably looked upon this season, although it is rather delicate for underwear, as it does not well bear the frequent launderings necessary.

It cannot be said that the empire fashions are really unpopular, since they are often used for indoor costumes. When the entire empire effect is not desired, the ordinary long waisted, close fitting back is made with a full front gathered close under the bosom, with perhaps the additional restraint of a loose girdle of metal or heavy cord dropping from the waist line. As far as house gowns are concerned, one may do as one chooses and may range from accurately classical drapery to gowns of so thoroughly a nineteenth century character that they can be worn only by the ultra small waisted species of woman. A word to the wise is sufficient, however, and most women are wise about clothes, having a natural artistic tendency. Since fashion permits, nay encourages, loose house dresses, take advantage of the fact and allow yourself breathing room.

A sketch is given for a Paris model of a house gown in heliotrope glaze silk and ivory silk crepon. It is trimmed with heliotrope velvet and pearl passementerie of an oriental pattern. The princess body of the gown is of silk, while the loose part is of crepon. This part is gathered into a narrow low necked yoke of velvet, cut in three scallops and bordered with passementerie. A piece of velvet, scalloped and trimmed to correspond, falls over the top of the sleeves and joins the yoke. These narrow velvet straps, sewed with cabochons and terminated with pearl passementerie pieces, fall from the yoke. Velvet bands, strided with cabochons, fasten the crepon part to the body of the gown. The bouffant elbow sleeve of crepon is surmounted by a short silk sleeve embroidered with pearls. A double puffing of silk trims the bottom of the gown. JUDIC CHOLET.

KNOWLEDGE

Brings comfort and improvement and tends to personal enjoyment when rightly used. The many, who live better than others and enjoy life more, with less expenditure, by more promptly adapting the world's best products to the needs of physical being, will attest the value to health of the pure liquid laxative principles embraced in the remedy, Syrup of Figs.

Its excellence is due to its presenting in the form most acceptable and pleasant to the taste, the refreshing and truly beneficial properties of a perfect laxative; effectually cleansing the system, dispelling colds, headaches and fevers and permanently curing constipation. It has given satisfaction to millions and met with the approval of the medical profession, because it acts on the Kidneys, Liver and Bowels without weakening them and it is perfectly free from every objectionable substance.

Syrup of Figs is for sale by all druggists in 50c and $1 bottles, but it is manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only, whose name is printed on every package, also the name, Syrup of Figs, and being well informed, you will not accept any substitute if offered.

HILL'S SPEECH.

Vigorous Comments of the Democrat Press on the New York Senator's Tariff Talk.

New York Times: "What Mr. Hill most of all desires is to retain the little that is left of his hold upon the Democratic party in New York, and to do all the harm he can to the Democratic party of the country, so far as it is represented by the National administration. For the first purpose it is quite necessary to him to oppose the income tax, while he solaces himself with such 'digs' as he can inflict in passing upon the President."

New York World: "All these evils would Mr. Hill bring upon the country and the party in order to defeat a tax which proposes to take a mite from the unneeded surplus of the rich in order that the labor of the country may be relieved of a portion of the burden that oppresses it. Could any Republican do more?"

Louisville Post: The speech of Senator Hill is an open avowal of his alliance with the Republicans, which was formed to defeat Hornblower and Peckham. His assault on Gresham's Democracy would have come with better grace from one who was not bodily repudiating the Democratic platform.

St. Louis Republic: "David B. Hill has denounced President Cleveland, assailed the tariff principles of the Democratic party, condemned income taxes and objected to free raw materials. While there will be some surprise that a New York Senator, elected as a Democrat, took the floor to antagonize everything in the policy and leadership of the party it is a relief to be certain that Hill, Murphy and the other traitors are on the Republican side. Cleveland is coming back. Hill's speech will restore Cleveland's hold upon multitudes of men."

Specimen Cases.

S. H. Clifford, New Cassel, Wis., was troubled with neuralgia and rheumatism, his stomach was disordered, his liver was affected to an alarming degree, appetite fell away, and he was terribly reduced in flesh and strength. Three bottles of Electric Bitters cured him.

Edward Shepherd, Harrisburg, Ill., had a running sore on his leg of eight years' standing. Used three bottles of Electric Bitters and seven boxes of Bucklen's Arnica Salve, and his leg is sound and well. John Speaker, Catawba, O., had five fever sores on his leg, doctors said he was incurable. One bottle of Electric Bitters and one box Bucklen's Arnica Salve cured him entirely. Sold by J. James Wood.
